

Our website uses cookies to distinguish you from other users of our website. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our website and also allows us to improve our site.

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store on your browser or the hard drive of your computer if you agree. Cookies contain information that is transferred to your computer's hard drive.

We use the following cookies:

- Strictly necessary cookies. These are cookies that are required for the operation of our website. These essential cookies are always enabled because our website won't work properly without them. You can switch off these cookies in your browser settings, but you may then not be able to access all or parts of our website.
- Targeting cookies. We use Facebook Pixel to track your activity on our website. This allows us to serve you relevant ads on Facebook and Instagram based on your browsing behaviour. These cookies collect information about your visit, such as the pages you viewed and the links you clicked. Facebook may use this data in accordance with their Data Policy (<https://www.facebook.com/policy.php>).

You can find more information about the individual cookies we use and the purposes for which we use them in the table below:

We do not share the information collected by the cookies with any third parties.

Choices about cookies

You can choose to reject targeting cookies in your browser settings to prevent cookies from being set. However, some personalised features may not function properly without them.

Except for strictly necessary cookies (if any), all cookies will expire after 90 days.
